WHEAT SOME BETTER,

BUT CORN WEAKER IN PRICE.

NOT MUCH TO ANY OF THE GRAIN MARKETS.

Trading Was Also Quiet and the Aggregate Business of Small Proportions.

A quiet and assuming set of markets was had in grain yesterday. There were no changes of importance in the conditions surrounding the general situation, and for that reason the different markets remained almost wholly professional and, by comparison, rather slow and quiet at that. So little interest appeared to be taken in a speculative way during the day that there were intervals of considerable length when the pit on 'change was practically deserted and nothing was done. Price changes during the whole day were small and narrow, and no features of special interest were geveloned.

part of the day was restricted and featureless, and the dealings as a rule unimportant, neither the volume of business nor the range of prices offering any striking fentures. Traders who were favorable to the short side were greatly encouraged when the market opened up and it was found that cables had ranged themselves on their side. Liverpool being quoted $\frac{1}{2}\text{d}\text{off}$, as compared with the closing the day before. This and the fact that receipts were again large impressed them, and they were prepared to do $\frac{1}{2}\text{c}\text{d}\text{injgs}$, when they were confronted by quite a strong undertone, both here and at other domestic markets, which was backed up by a good detonand, that in some respects was rather urgent, and which had been called forth by kets, which was backed up by a good de-mand, that in some respects was rather ur-gent, and which had been called forth by reand, that in some respects was rather urgent, and which had been called forth by the reported light arrivals at Western markets and the cold wave, together with the fact that the growing plant was without any covering of snow. Buying started off briskly as soon as the market opened, the initial trades in May being at 73\square\text{20}\text{10}\text{

Bradstreet's report received during the last half of the session was of quite material help to the bulls, as it showed a decrease of 239,000 hu, in the world's visible, as compared with 2,70,000 bu, increase one year ago, while the available cast of the Rockies was decreased 1,497,000 bu, more than the regular visible. This gave tone to the market, but did not advance prices any; in fact, May weakened off to 73½c, but later on good buying on cash sales for shipment that option rallied to 73½c, which was ½c higher for the day and at which it closed buyers. The closing sales of July were at 72½c, or ½c up for the day. According to late New York advices, sales for export at the scaboard were only 10 loads.

The local corn market was heavy all during the day, and slowly but surely worked down to a lower level, the close showing as much of a lose as there were gains in wheat. Early influences were by no means conductive to strength, the combination that confronted the trade when the market opened being hard freezing weather, liberal receipts and free selling by the country, all of which had a bad effect, and the opening for May was at 1-16c decline at 38 kc, from which there was a further drop to 38 kc, while July sold $40 kc off, at 38c. Liverpoot was bearish, that market closing $4d off for the day, and exporters stated that they could do nothing with Europe, Export clearances, on the other hand, were fairly large at $57,000 bu, but Bradstreet's reported an increase in the aveilable supply of 1,729,600 bu, as against 2,12,000 bu, increase one year ago, and where the regular visible was increased. crease one year ago, and where the regular visible was increased 1.546,000 bu, last week. There were no changes of importance during the balance of the session, and May ranged between 35%c and 35%c7%c while closing 1/c lower for the day at 35%c7%c sellers. July sold at 33%c and closed 1/4/2 off at that asked. New York reported sales for export of 15 loads.

There is very little to be said of the local oat situation. The market was dull and casier from start to finish, and but slightly changed. No sales were made, and May closed with sellers at 20 sc, and July was in demand at 25c. According to Bradstreet's, the available was increased 62,000 bu. against 17,000 bu. increase last year and 17,000 bu, decrease last week in the official visible.

Well informed people in the trade here say they can figure up nearly 90,000 bu, wheat now they can figure up nearly 90,000 bu, wheat now held in St. Louis elevators that is sold for shipment to outside mills and markets. A very considerable autount it said to be owned by Toledo. The Advance Elevator Company, which some time ago held over 1,000,000 bu, in the Advance and Venice elevators, had sold all save 10,000 bu, at close of Monday's business.

—F. Lenders & Co. of London, in a late circular, say: "Argentine shipments have been large, but these appear to be mainly against contracts already made, and by shippers who had chartered and been compelled to load, because the fact remains that a much better price is obtainable on the spot from local millers, and also for shipment to the Brazils and South Aftica, than is obtainable in Europe, and in consequence the latest shipments have been made at a loss, and to do much more business in this description prices will either have to advance on this side or materially decline on the other."

—That unsound Northwestern spring wheat continues to come to this market, and it is understood that quite a large amount of this wheat is arriving in Kansas City.

—Primary corn receipts, $70,000 bu. against $22,000 bu. a year ago, including 12,000 bu. at xillouis, against $9,500 bu. a year ago, bu. —Primary shipments 28,000 bu. a year ago, bu. —Primary shipments 28,000 bu. a year ago. Primary shipments 24,000 bu.

Indianapolis wires: "We are having now a general case of thaving and freezing. Sunday, 66 above; Monday, 45 above; to-day, 10 above.

No snow twenty miles south of Cheago."

—Stocks of grain in Chicago show for the week an increase in contract corn of 52,000 bu. wheat, 61,000 bu. contract stocks now duced from 1/2c to Ic a bu. and Antwerp was unchanged.

Bradstreet's figures and the cold weather were the only buil features of the day's information that remained undisturbed, but these were sufficient to hold the market most of the session slightly above the previous day's closing figures.

As the market came to a close there spring up a little demand, and the local operators had already sold all they dared; so that, rather than leave short, they were covering their wheat at 7% as the bell tapped. J. H. Wrenn & Co. had a buying order as the session was closing which they could only fill by continuing to bid for a moment or two after the official close. Although 7% by bid was the actual closing quotation, 7% by was paid in the pit before the crowd dispersed.

Corn.

Dullness in corn and oats could not be ascribed, as was being done in wheat, to a preference of the outside speculator for other grain centers, but in the two former commodities there was no more animation than in the wheat pit. Corn ruled caster in prices along with the quietness of the trade. May corn, which closed yesterday at 41%c, opened at from 40%c to 40%c, and the best it could do during the day was to reach 40%c for a moment. It closed at 40%c, or %c lower than it did the day before. Local receipts were 613 cars, it of which were contract. A year ago 711 carlonds were received, 5 of which were contract. Primary Western receipts were 450, 600 bu. as against 1,065,000 bu. the year before. Seaboard clearances were 567,000 bu. Shipping business as done here was reported at 50,000 bu., and New York gave export sales there at 16 boatloads. Brad-
